ADVENTURE, SUN, AND TOGETHERNESS

Daily Life

Fun, friends, and a little bit of learning!

Chesley Price smiles for the camera on a river trip—"Hey! You're supposed to be journaling!"

Eighth grade is an awesome year in the Middle School. The class trip was full of adventure and once school started, the excitement kept going! The 8th grade teachers have high expectations, but they also know that we need to laugh and have fun and they give us time to do that. Of course there are times when we work really hard, but the topics are interesting and the learning is actually fun. We do have more homework, bigger papers, and huge projects, but it's cool that we are getting the hang of the workload and bigger demands. As a class we have really gotten to know each other better this year. It's weird to find out that there are people that you have gone to school with for years, only to learn that there is so much about them you don't know. As a group we have gotten tighter, and as individuals we have really started to grow up. Eighth grade is full of challenges, both academic and social, but it is also a really exciting time in our lives!

Seventh Grade: The In-Between Year

This was a great year, wasn't it? It had friends, field trips, and technically we learned something. Anyway, this year was really fun. Whether it was lockers dumping on us, the Brighton trip, or just everyday life, we had a great time. We had some new names, some new ideas, and some new status, I mean, we weren't the new kids anymore. Hey, and next year we get to boss everybody around (maybe). "I can't wait for summer vacation! But seventh grade was fun," Rachel Geurin said. Molly Weisman also commented, "Seventh grade had great trips and great opportunities!" Overall, seventh grade will soon be over, but in later years we'll look back at seventh grade with great memories.

The first day of Middle School

As I hug my dad good-bye, I remember the summers past.

My pack hangs heavy on my shoulders,
What have I got in there, a bunch of boulders?

Kids are running through the halls,
I see "Welcome to school," signs pinned to the wall.

We all gather in the Larimer Center,
The Chaplain Raggs Ragan begins to enter.

She welcomes us to our new school,
She tells us this year will be really cool.

Into our advisory we all file,
There sits our teacher with a great big smile.
We do math and talk about our Lincoln buddies,
Then we rush off to social studies.

The end of the day comes slower than slow,
By that time I'm tired and ready to go.
As I walk down the hall I hear Mr. Chubb's barks,
And I'm happy to go to Rowland Hall-St. Marks.

chose community service as my career because each time I think I am doing something for someone else, I learn and receive so much in return. Exposing children to community service and watching them gain personally from their work while helping others is the most fulfilling teaching that I have ever done. I cannot imagine not incorporating service into my teaching. By teaching young people about service, I feel like I am not only helping our world as it is now, but the future.
